What are Bishop's Transcripts (BTs)?

In 1598, parishes were ordered to send an annual copy of all baptisms, marriages and burials for the year to the church authorities. These returns are known as 'Bishop's Transcripts', or BTs for short.

Bishop's Transcripts continued to be made until the late 19th century, although there were lapses in local diligence in sending the returns. Marriage returns ended after the introduction of civil registration in 1837.

Why are Bishop's Transcripts useful?

Bishop's Transcripts can be very useful when the original registers are hard to read or if a register is missing.

Both Bishop's Transcripts and parish registers can contain entries not found in the other. Draft registers were often used for compiling both the register and the Bishop's Transcript. Discrepancies arose and there can be differences in dates, surnames and given names.

Where do I find Bishop's Transcripts?

Most Bishop's Transcripts for West Yorkshire parishes are held at the Borthwick Institute for Archives, University of York, Heslington, York, YO10 5DD, telephone +44 (0)1904 321166.

West Yorkshire Archive Service, Leeds holds BTs for areas in the north-west of Yorkshire: the Yorkshire portions of the Archdeaconry of Richmond, and a few for other parts of the Diocese of Ripon.

This guide lists the Bishop's Transcripts held by West Yorkshire Archive Service, whether original or microfilm copy. The majority are held at WYAS Leeds, but WYAS Calderdale has copies for some parishes in its district.

Covering dates only are given. They may conceal large gaps for individual parishes, as Bishop's Transcripts series are rarely complete.
